ENORMOUS SUMS SPENT BY COLLEGES IN THE PROMOTION OF ATHLETICS

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 23.—The recent publication of the various college athletic associations' annual financial statements brings vividly to mind again the large sums of money received and expended in the course of a year for the support of varsity sport. These reports also point with unerring aim to the sports and competitions which, because of popular favor and attraction, not only pay for themselves but carry the burden of others wherein the expenditures are far in excess of all receipts and subscriptions.

Some idea of the amount of money received and disbursed by the football authorities during a season of approximately 10 weeks may be gathered from the annual reports of the Princeton and Harvard athletic associations. These financial statements, so far as football is concerned, refer to the season of 1912, but since there is not much deviation from a general average they serve all practical purposes when used on a comparative basis. Princeton gate receipts for nine games amounted to $67,313, of which $41,933, or more than one-half, was received as the Tigers' share of the Yale, Harvard and Dartmouth games. The six contests with minor colleges netted Princeton but $5379, an average of less than $900 per game. A source of revenue, in addition to the gate receipts, was the training table, the players paying $656 for board, while the football programs netted $444.

Against this revenue were expenses amounting to $36,964, showing a balance of $32,322, far in excess of the net receipts of all other sports combined. The various items of expenditures furnish an insight into the wide range of activity and outlay necessary in connection with the staging of a big varsity football campaign. Princeton spent $9261 in traveling expenses and guarantees given other teams. The services of coaches cost $7316; suits and supplies, $1687. Rubbers, physicians and medical supplies required an outlay of $738. Payments made to those serving as officials at the nine games scheduled amounted to $1038. Printing, advertising, telegrams and telephone bills totaled $382, while the expenses of manager and captain were set down as $287. One of the biggest items was the repairs and upkeep of the wooden stands surrounding the football field, $10,423 being expended for this purpose, which explains the present agitation for a permanent concrete stadium at Princeton.

No other sport at Princeton approached these figures either in receipts or expenses. Baseball cost $15,034, while receipts were $25,892, leaving a balance of $10,859. The track and field team showed a net loss of $3982; gymnastic association, $688; basketball, $402; swimming, $714; wrestling, $918, and rowing $168. Hockey showed a profit of $75, which puts the ice sport in the financial category with football and baseball at Princeton.

NOTICE TO PARTNERS.

William Pierce, your heirs, executors and assigns—You are hereby notified that the undersigned have expended during the years 1912 and 1913 the annual amount of money, in labor and improvements necessary to comply with the annual assessment law upon the Dividend, Dividend No. 1, Dividend No. 2 and Dividend No. 3 quartz mining claims situate in the Eldorado Mining District, Nye County, Nevada. Said expenditures were made for the purpose of holding possessory right and title to said mining claims under the provisions of Section 2284 of the Revised Statutes of the United States. If you fail to contribute your proportion of such expenditure as a co-owner in and to the above-mentioned mining claims, your proportion being in the sum of an aggregate $177.77 for the said two years, your interest in said claims will become the property of the undersigned, who have made the expenditures and improvements as above-mentioned, pursuant to the provisions of said statutes.

CHARLES COURT, GEORGE CLARK.

Date of first publication, January 7, 1914.

At Harvard similar conditions prevailed. Football receipts amounted to $114,364, against expenses of $30,151, showing that while the Crimson profits were $84,213 greater than at Princeton, the expenses were $5213 less, but it must be taken into consideration that Harvard with its concrete stadium escaped the wooden stand upkeep necessary at Princeton. Baseball at Harvard was a money maker to the extent of $6396, while hockey made $312. Rowing showed a net loss of $11,547; track athletics, $7082; association football, $1461; Lacrosse, $2367, and gymnastics $1396. The University of Colorado is negotiating with the University of Washington for a post-season football game to be played early in December. The Colorado team won the championship of the Rocky mountain conference last season. Colorado teams have made trips to the California coast and are now anxious to play the northwest. Dean Roberts, chairman of the faculty committee, thinks there is no valid reason why Washington should not play Colorado. He states: "It would be much better if we could play the game earlier. However, I am in favor of playing Colorado the first week in December if the coach and players are willing to keep in training that long."

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

A large crowd enjoyed the first three reels of the "Adventures of Kathlyn" series last evening and are looking forward to the next of the series which will be shown here every two weeks during the entire story. This evening there will be five reels, including Pathé Weekly of current events, which is always an interesting feature in the "movies." "Love's Old Dream," a Viareggio comedy; "The Charmed Arrow," a Selig drama, and "Treasures on Earth," a Lubin two-reel drama, being a powerful story teaching the folly and danger of sacrificing homes and happiness for the greed of gold. Years of sorrow pay the dread penalty until reason conquers.

Tomorrow, "Local Color," a two-reel Vitaphone drama; Wednesday, "The Minister's Daughter," a two-reel Pathé. Coming Saturday, "The Leap of Despair," a four-reel feature of the circus.

PASTIME THEATER

Charles Frohman is accepted as America's most clever impresario. Rewards of merit and approval are not made in New York unless publicly approved. Mr. Frohman seals his success and standing with type and quality that has continued to breathe him the original and most popular producer of drama. In selecting Henry Dixey for "Chelsea 7750," Mr. Frohman is scoring a victorious success. The Pastime theater will present this famous detective play tonight and tomorrow.

Henry Dixey, the famous legitimate star, one of the foremost favorites of the American stage, is to be presented tonight in one of the "Famous Players Features" by the Famous Players Film Company. Mr. Dixey will appear in a metropolitan mystery entitled "Chelsea 7750." From the title down to the last scene this subject is a unique and startlingly novel motion picture production. The play sounds every depth of the underworld, its secrets, its methods and emotions, and penetrates the intricate labyrinth of the submerged half. In the role of an eminent, able and conscientious detective, Mr. Dixey is afforded ample opportunity to exercise the powers of perception and analysis for which he is renowned. In a relentless pursuit of a trained and resourceful gang of counterfeiters, which later develops into an intense mental and physical struggle, with many impending difficulties and heart-breaking disappointments, but which eventually culminates in a complete and decisive victory, Mr. Dixey is provided with one of the strongest parts which in all his versatile and extended career he has ever portrayed. Startling revelations, ingenious machinations and overwhelming climaxes crowd fast in thrilling succession, and through it all the mystery and fascination of the world that lives under cover.

Many unusual effects are introduced, unique incidents and events progress in rapid sequence, and the play attains a strength and continuity of interest seldom reached in detective romances. Mr. Dixey, as a master mind and the brains of the police in their ruthless war against criminality, distinguishes the play with his farcical characterization.

Mr. Dixey is supported by Laura Sawyer and House Peters, who assist him admirably in recording the trend of the drama.

"Chelsea 7750" connects a noted star with a new success.

The cast of characters is: Detective Kirby, Henry E. Dixey; Kats Kirby, his daughter, Laura Sawyer; Prof. Grimble, House Peters; Prof. Grimble's son, Martin J. Faust; "Humpty" Logan, Edwin Mordant; Secret Service Man West, Ben Hendricks; Japanese butler, Makoto Inakuchi; Superintendent sub treasury, Stanley Dark; assistant superintendent sub treasury, Harry Elliston; K.L. Dillon, Robert Vaughn.
